Premium Turfgrass Mix

Mixes or blends provide genetic diversity in a turf stand, which often prevents a single disease, weather condition or seasonal change from adversely affecting the entire stand, maintaining an attractive appearance throughout the entire growing season. Some mixes or blends are made to be very versatile, such as performing well in sun and shade. Other mixes or blends are designed specifically for a particular condition, such as permanent dense shade or sports fields with high traffic. Capital City Parks consists of a popular, versatile mix that includes three species. It performs well in sun and shade and has a beautiful dark green appearance. Characteristics of Capital City Parks include:

- Improved varieties provide a soft feel and dark green appearance.
- Strong disease resistance.
- Very popular product for lawns in Wisconsin and throughout the Midwest.
- Establishes quickly.
